About the Guest Presenter

Morgan Clementson joined the baking industry at the tender age of 27 after a career that included race car driving, website design, and managing petrol stations. She graduated from TAFE Ilwara, Australia with qualifications in Bakery and Patisserie and Small Business Management, earning TAFE apprentice of the year, and Hospitality and Cookery student of the year. Upon completing her apprenticeship, Morgan won the New South Wales Training Awards apprentice of the year which launched her travels to Europe and USA where she trained with renowned bakers in France, England and America. Upon returning to Australia, Morgan was awarded an Australian Overseas Foundation Scholarship which enabled her to embark on a traineeship with Puratos in Belgium. This led to her applying for her current position at Puratos as a Technical Advisor for Bakery where she travels all over the world helping clients to create innovative products and training local teams. Above all else, Morgan is passionate about bread and the importance of retaining and enhancing the art and craft of sourdough bread making.
